ROLLINS—HAMILTON

On Monday, September 1st, occurred the wedding of Miss Della Regina Hamilton, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Oldham of the Maplewood farm, Lee, to Mr. Ora Le Roy Rollins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Rollins, of Dover, Maine. It was a very pretty home wedding, the decorations being profuse and artistic. A corner bower of green and gold, with a large bell of golden rod, encircled the wedding party, giving a dainty and attractive effect to the scene. The bride was beautifully attired in a white crepe meteor gown cut en traine, and trimmed in exquisite lace, while a prettily draped wedding veil and bridal bouquet completed the costume. It is not the lot of a gathering to often see a handsomer bride than Miss Hamilton. The groom's gift to the bride was a very lovely string of pearls, which were the only jewels worn by the bride. The bridesmaid was Miss Alice Crane of Somerville, Mass., a cousin of the bride, who is soon to be a bride, also. The bridegroom, with his best man, Mr. Harley Brown of Strafford, met the bride at the altar. The two ribbon girls, Hazel Dearborn of Lee and Sadie Marion Griffiths of Durham, gracefully did their parts; while the ring bearer, little Ruth Griffiths of North Andover, Mass., carried out her part to perfection, in this her first experience. Lohengrin's wedding march was played by Mrs. John Griffiths. Rev. Fred T. Knight of Durham was the officiating minister, and was most impressive. After the ceremony, congratulations were extended to the happy couple by guests from Somerville, North Andover, Medford and Malden, Mass., Newmarket, Strafford, Durham and Lee, N.H. The grandmother Mrs. John W. Oldham, of Wellesley, Mass., was also present. A dainty wedding breakfast was served. The wedding cake, made by the efficient hands of the loving mother and decorated by Finley, the caterer, of Dover, N.H., was a marvel of art. Numerous and elegant gifts of silver, cut glass, china, linen, cutlery and other articles were among the wedding presents. The couple left immediately for an extended honeymoon trip, after which they will reside in Dover, Maine. The best wishes of their friends follow them.
