The semi annual visit of the deputy to Jeremiah Smith Grange, Tuesday evening, brought a large attendance. Several neighboring granges were represented. The first and fourth degrees were exemplified, followed by a bountiful collation. An interesting programme was furnished, and the grange was closed at a late hour.

Beulah J., wife of Frank L. Oldham, passed away at the Homeopathic Hospital in Boston October 22, where she had gone four weeks ago for surgical treatment. Everything in human power was done for her restoration, but it was not to be. Mrs. Oldham was well known in this section, and will be greatly missed by her family and friends. She was 53 years of age, and is survived by a husband, one daughter (Mrs. Roy Rollins of Dover, Me.), her mother, two sisters and one brother, besides nieces, nephews and a host of friends. Mrs. Oldham's funeral services were held at the home of her sister, Mrs. Crane, at 30 Gorham street, West Somerville, Mass., and were largely attended. The minister spoke highly of the deceased, and his remarks were very appropriate. One side of the room in which the body reposed was entirely banked with beautiful pieces of flowers, testifying in their mute way to the esteem and love that follows her. Burial was in the family lot in Waltham, Mass.
