A patriotic meeting of the citizens of Lee was held at the town hall, Sunday morning, May 26, at eleven o’clock, under the direction of the Public Safety Committee, and with the co-operation of the church and society of Lee. Prof. Richard Whoriskey of New Hampshire College gave a very interesting talk on the "War Aims of Germany," which was thoroughly appreciated by his audience. Lewis A. Sheafe, field organizer for War Savings, and the representative of Allen Hollis, state director, told of the object and aims of War Savings Stamps and the grand results to be attained by their use. Hon. George Hughes of our neighboring city of Dover spoke in the interest of the Red Cross. Mr. Hughes has long had many friends and admirers in Lee, and it is no exaggeration to say that by his noble and sympathetic way of bringing home to his audience a full realization not only of our duties but of the privilege it is to be a part of this great nation, he has won the hearts of all of us. We feel proud to know that this small town of Lee, which is thoroughly a farming community, has fully met all the calls in support of the war and believe we shall be in it to the end and share in the grand home coming of our boys.

The following resolutions were introduced and unanimously adopted. We, the people of Lee, at a patriotic mass meeting held in the town hall, Sunday, May 26, 1918, realizing the great crisis that we and our allies are facing with regard to food, do hereby resolve:

First, that we shall abstain as far as possible from eating wheat and wheat products until the next harvest.

Second, that we shall reduce our consumption of meat, including poultry, so that we shall not average more than two pounds per week per person over four years of age. Third, that we shall conserve sugar.

Last Sunday afternoon the new church building that has recently been built in Madbury, where Rev. Arthur Brotherston is pastor, was dedicated. The house was filled to overflowing and the exercises were very interesting. The sermon by Rev. L.H. Thayer, D.D., of Portsmouth was listened to with a great deal of interest. Rev. Mr. Stearns of Concord,
Rev. W. W. Leete, D. D., of Boston and W. H. Elliott of Madbury, who spoke of its being the 150th anniversary of the town, were all interesting speakers. The choir of the First Congregational church of Dover furnished fine music. With the assistance of $800 from the Church Building Society, Boston, and gifts from friends far and near, the church, built at a cost of $4,400, was dedicated free of debt.
